

As the Gater Sees It

By ALEX EDELSTEIN

Pending at this time is a plan to enlarge the Golden Gater. In line with modern reasoning, it will not be enlarged sideways or lengthwise, but up and down. In other words, there will be a one page insert.

At the end of last semester it was planned to make it a standard newspaper size, coming out, if possible, twice a week. Lack of sufficient funds was the essential and ever present drawback. But, after all, we rationalized, didn't all the new journalism theories advocate a small sheet? We knew all the time that the Gater was pacing the world in journalism. Yes sir!

NOT EVERY EDITION

But do not assume too much. There will not be an insert every edition. Only the hard work of the advertising staff can assure us of carrying out the five special insert editions we have scheduled. Rome was not built in a day. And neither can the Gater build up a consistent advertising income in one semester. We hope that with an increased appropriation from the student body next semester we can retain our objective of a bigger and better Golden Gater.

STAFF NO GOODS?

Two years ago Howard Demeke, then Director of Publications, railroaded through a pinchpenny executive board a bit of legislation which provided an additional 5c per student for the Gater fund. Needless to say, the jitney was not his objective. Demeke's ambition was to have that increased from year to year, providing the impetus for a bigger Gater. This semester that plan was almost nipped in the bud by our President, Mr. Robert Sweeney, who thinks the Gater staff are a bunch of no goods.

WHO'S GOT THE NICKEL?

Mr. Sweeney kindly informed us before the budget meeting last term that "we were not going to get the nickel this time." We asked for a dime as per custom, and got the nickel.

Looking ahead to 1942, (the year) Merced and the new college, one thing is obvious. Publications troubles must be smoothed over by that time.

Franciscan Staff Positions Open

Addition of Louise Vallarino, experienced State journalist, to the staff of the 1940 Franciscan was announced today by Ernie Miguel, Editor.

Miss Vallarino has had three-and-one-half years of journalistic experience at State, having been managing editor and editor-in-chief of the Student Handbook.

There are still several openings for research writers on the Annual, Associate Editor Wilma Hill announced, and applications for the positions are being accepted in the Franciscan Office, Annex A-6a every day from 9 to 5:30.

Jim Martin, Business Manager of the 1940 Franciscan, has placed the books on sale to graduating high seniors for the regular subscription price of $1.50. They may be purchased any day from 9 till 5:45 in the Franciscan Office.

"Several students have been rather worried over the subscription to the Annual at this college," said Margaret Sullivan, Class Editor, "and the staff wishes to inform them that they needn't worry about not being able to pay for it. It is a part of the spring registration fees," she said.

Greased Pole Featured At The Freshman-Sophomore Barwl Today; Holocaust Begins At Four P.M.

Kelly's Pals To Splash Two Doz. Boxes of Ripe Tomatoes On Frosh

Two-Ton Tony Soph will engage obscure One-Ton Willie Frosh in what the general public would term "a super, peachy brawl" at 4 p.m. today on the lower field. Spokesman-in-chief of the Soph "butchering" committee, one Jack Kelly, promised that he would see to it personally that the little men would have a very interesting and beautiful afternoon—in the mud.

The Sophomore committee led by Jack Kelly guarantees to make this brawl a standout. According to Kelly, the Sophs are well supplied with eggs, tomatoes and other damaging missiles. On the subject of men, Jack said, "Last year not so many fellows turned out for the event, but this year I've rounded up all the fellows that I know I can depend upon, between 90 and 100 of them, and all I can say is that the "young 'uns" had better come prepared to war till the very end."

GREASED POLE

"Among the features will be a greased pole which will stand high above the mighty towers of S. F. State," he continued. "Supposedly the freshmen will try to get the flag, or whatever we place on top, but they'll have a mighty tough time even getting near it."

As per usual for the brawl, the lower field will be the place, and as per usual also, it will be flooded with aqua pura. Trenches will be dug and Jack not only promised, but also guaranteed that the

News Guild Plans 'Front Page Frolic'

Three years ago, bay region newspapermen organized under a charter of the American Newspaper Guild sponsored the first annual Front Page Frolic ever thrust upon the unsuspecting citizenry of San Francisco. Combining the outstanding features of a good dance band with the best night club and vaudeville talent that could be procured, the affair has enjoyed popular support and subsequent financial gain ever since its inception.

In 1937, the entire cast of Golden Boy, headed by Francis Lederer and Betty Furness, along with band-leader Carl Ravazza and Jimmy Grier were the main attractions. Last year, Sally Rand, columnist Herb Caen, and swing-singer Maxine Sullivan packed them into the Aquatic Park Casino. This year, October 6 to be exact, State students will have a chance to see a collegiate interpretation of the Front Page Frolic.

October 6 is the date that the News Guild, an associated chapter of the American Newspaper Guild, will deck out the Women's Gym in the regalia befitting the occasion and fill the place with music and other commodities designed to spiritually satisfy. As an indication of the quality of the affair, Jim Martin, in charge of the Frolic, stated: "It will be terrific!"

College Theater Tryouts Today

Tryouts will be held today and tomorrow for College Theater's three-act play "Murray Hill or Miss Tweedles Gets Married" by Leslie Howard of Hollywood fame. The tryouts will take place in Annex B-2 from 4:00 to 6:00, under the direction of Miss Jessie Casebolt, College Theater head.

The play contains many character parts and the setting is in New York City in the 1890's, but Miss Casebolt has swung down to the 1920's.

It will be presented at San Francisco State for two or three performances and at the Federal Theater on Treasure Island during the first week in November.

Rehearsals until October 2 will be held from 6:30 to 10:30 every night and after that date on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays at the same hours.

Miss Casebolt also announced that some one-act plays will be presented on Treasure Island by the Eng. 126B class, and anyone interested in marionettes should contact Miss Casebolt for College Theater sponsorship.

The cast for "Murray Hill" will be announced by Monday.

Sigma Pi Sigma Choses Pledges

Choosing of new pledges highlighted the meeting of Sigma Pi Sigma fraternity last night at the home of Bob Sweeney.

Those who were selected for pledgeship into the fraternity will be notified today by President Bob Anderson. The pledgeship will begin Sunday at which time the new men will be formally inducted, and introduced to the members.

Also taken up at the meeting was the plans for the annual Sigma Pi Sigma dance in the school gym. Chairman Jack McGann presented an outline of plans for the dance and assigned men to various committees.

Exec. Board Contemplates Problems

Sweeney Gives Student Body 1939 Policy

Coordination of student government with all student body activities and organizations, both curricular and extra-curricular is the intention of the new student body administration, Bob Sweeney, Student Body President confided in a Gater interview.

A more complete cooperation between all campus groups, eliminating the dangerous factions that have been growing up is necessary, states Sweeney, if anything at all is to be accomplished by any student government. It is his intention to get all groups to stop their petty warfare and to cooperate in a program for the general welfare of the entire student body.

"With all factions going at it tooth and toenail, fighting for precedence and prestige, no student government can get anywhere," said Sweeney. "Before any progressive and concerted action in any one direction can be attained, such a factional spirit must be erased from the student body. Complete cooperation between all campus groups, clubs, fraternities, faculty, and other organizations is necessary for the very existence of a well-functioning student administration, and it is my intention to start from the ground floor and establish such a cooperative spirit on this campus. When, and not until, such a spirit is attained, will we carry out the excellent functions mapped out by the Executive Board," said Sweeney.

The primary object of Sweeney's campaign for further cooperation of all campus groups is to establish the type of spirit that has been so lacking at State. His theory that once all factions are banded together with one purpose in mind—the furthering of San Francisco State College and its prestige—more can be accomplished toward that purpose than can a thousand Student Government can without cooperation.

Dr. Roberts Welcomes Students At Formal Assembly Yesterday; Points To Success Of Faculty

Bob Sweeney and Mrs. Woodward Also Give Student-Parent Views

The highlight of State's Formal Assembly held yesterday at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, was Dr. Alexander Roberts' speech in which he told the climatic victory in the legislature of San Francisco State's new building campaign.

Ed Smith, Formal Assembly chairman opened the meeting, and after an organ solo by Gus Smith, introduced Robert Sweeney, Student Body president. Sweeney paid tribute to former Student Body president, Cliff Worth, Dr. Roberts, and the Patrons Association for their work in the building campaign, and then introduced the rest of the student officers: Peggy Smith, Vice-president; Dena Witte, Secretary; Fred Kline, Treasurer; Thelma Rastad, and Louise Vallerino, Women's Representatives; Bill Abbey, Yell Leader and Alex Edlestein, Director of Publications.

The chairman then introduced Mrs. W. M. Woodward, President of the Patrons Association who gave a talk on the purpose and work of that organization.

Selections by the A Capella Choir, directed by Roy Freeburg, followed.

The concluding speech by Dr. Roberts may be divided into six parts:

1. Welcome to new and returning students.

By BOB BUCKLEY

States' gridiron warriors get a chance on Saturday afternoon to show whether they are the "bestever" State football team, when they trek up to Mackay Stadium in Reno, to do battle against the University of Nevada's tough outfit.

Coach Dick Boyle remarked last Friday night that "It's NEVADA, not Marin, that we got to beat next week." This about sums up the story of Friday's battle. State will be up against a faster, heavier, and much more experienced eleven than the Mariner team.

From end to end Nevada boasts a starting lineup weighing in at 187 lbs. average per man against State's probable 185 lbs. average forward wall. In the backfield it

Tickets To Cal PolyOnSaleMon.

Tickets will go on sale Monday for the biggest football event of the season—The San Luis Obispo Excursion for the State-Cal Poly game to be played October 28. Jim Fitzgerald, excursion chairman, announces that there will only be 600 tickets sold and with almost four times that number enrolled students it means, "Get your tickets early!"

The rare pasteboards will be on sale at the booth in lower College Hall, the price $6.45. A deposit of $1.45 will save your ticket. Rosemary Saum is in charge of ticket sales.

The excursion ticket includes: round trip to San Luis Obispo on a Southern Pacific special train, lunch, the San Francisco State-California Polytechnic football game, dinner and a campus dance.

The Southern Pacific special train will have a total of eleven cars. There will be a dance car, an observation car, and public address system throughout.

"Since the ticket sale will be limited to 600, everyone who plans to go should put up the deposit as early as possible," said Jim Fitzgerald today.

Sigma Alpha Eta Forms Plans

Outlining plans for the coming semester, Sigma Alpha Eta, Honorary Men's Fraternity, met at the home of Guido Fumagalli last Sunday night. Dr. Morse, Faculty Sponsor, addressed the group.

Securing the dance date of November 3rd from the Executive Council, the fraternity laid plans to give one of the outstanding dances of the semester. All proceeds accruing from the dance will be used for the Sigma Alpha Eta semi-annual Scholarship.

Guido Fumagalli was placed in charge of the Homecoming Dinner on October 14th. Members of the Alumni Chapter will be entertained that night to dinner and will then go to the Chico-State football game with the active members.

FIGHT FOR YOUR LIFE

But Stay Out of War

There are those who hate war, but want war. And many of those persons belong in that category without fully realizing their paradoxical desire. War is destructive and useless, but it presents an outlet, however illusory, for pent-up discouragement.

Competitive standards in the world of work have mounted so high that men who have the breaks of bad fortune become more and more discouraged, and easily lose all confidence in themselves. Nothing is left but failure after failure. With the mire growing deeper, these living failures actually look at war as something to take them away from a losing battle of living in peace. Visions of heroes are attached to fighting, and the way to a hero's success looks easy.

The situation is hard to clear with employment and business problems dominating our modern civilization. It is complicated by the fact that so many hardly care to admit to themselves their hidden desire. The only apparent cure is a realization for these people that war is not an easy way out, and that it takes real guts to fight for a living with brain and physique. Wielding a bayonet is the true choice of only the coward or the maniac.

Eighteen students of journalism accepted an invitation to comment upon the policy and style of the Golden Gater. The accumulation of their suggestions produced the following report.

Under campus news was suggested more emphasis on campus news, more democratic coverage, better departmental coverage, inclusion of human interest stories on campus life, more club news, less emphasis on sports, careful distinction between news on the one hand and trivial propaganda and opinion on the other.

Under city, national, and world news was suggested less space for non-campus news, more space for political news and features, and the omission of petty, personal arguments.

Under the editorial section was suggested the expression of opinions and reactions of the student body as a whole, rather than those of the staff, and the omission of bitterness and personalities in editorials.

Under the feature section it was suggested that the Gater invite and print interviews and articles by students not on the staff, run short "name" features, such as "man on the street" interviews, promote competition in various curricular and extra-curricular activities, and do away with the use of so much filler material not related to students.

Under the miscellaneous section was suggested a tightening up in the style of news writing, correction of obscure headlines, better distribution of the paper, and freedom of the press: "full independence of editorial opinion within the limits of truth and responsibility."

A better paper cannot be produced until the staff can contact general student opinion. The Gater is your paper ... you, the student, pay for it ... so you have the right to kick if you're dissatisfied. The more you kick, the more material the staff has with which to work. Drop all notes in the Publications office or in post box 834.

AFTER BEATS

By SHERMAN GRANT

Perhaps it's our imagination. Maybe our wildest dreams and fondest hopes are near realization. And perchance we are just plain nuts, but we think that a great metamorphosis is taking place. Is the breach between the Music Department and the upper buildings narrowing? Could it be that tolerance and good will are supplanting the rivalries and petty grievances which heretofore existed between the two factions? Or are we mentally repeating a hope so often that it is gradually being accepted as the truth?

From the day we entered this venerable institution, a lowly transfer student from the Powell Street Orphan Asylum, we were distressed by the animosity between the upper and lower alleys. We had big, noble ideas about wanting to be the savior of friendship between the two, but the tenseness continued. Now, for some inexplicable reason, College Hall inmates no longer turn away in disgust at the sight of a music major. No longer do the jeering cries of "Longhair!" ring out in the clear air. Everyone is beginning to realize that the Music Department, of necessity so far removed from the rest of the college, does not want the feeling of individual departmental importance; rather, it sees the need, the vital need for co-operation bred of a common love for our school.

As this column is being written, our representative is conferring with the Executive Board deciding the fate of new, resplendent uniforms for the Band. If our proposal is accepted, the break will be cemented. If it is rejected, it will indeed be a test of our co-operative spirit, for if we still desire inter-departmental harmony (as your correspondent knows we will), then our love for State is truly great.

Joe Cleff is happy, too. The dark, lovely College Hall creature who caught his heart and toyed with it, is not toying with it any more.

Asides and Interludes: The new A Capella Choir season definitely getting under way with Jimmy Stewart Freeburg getting ethereal choral effects with every manual muscle—even unto the elbows ... With new Choir Prexy Doug (McTavish) Kidd not getting a word in edgewise with Garzoli's tender comments ... With Archambault conspicuous by his absence ... With Corky's feet the same distance from the floor ... And with gusto!

Observed in Music Alley: That freshman music majorette in her summery dress. Like a debutante on a spree, it's tight in the best places.

FLASH

Excellent practical experience in journalism, advertising and business contacts, plus an opportunity to earn up to a hundred dollars is offered by advertising sales work on the Golden Gater.

Any student who feels possessed of real sales ability and the need for a workout may apply to the Ad Director of the Gater in Annex A-9, office A, today or tomorrow.

HIGH NOTES and LOW NOTES

The Music Federation party, Friday night, September 22, promises to be one of the liveliest affairs of the season. The theme for the blowout will be Spanish Nights, and with the warm weather we've been having, the Senoritas should feel just as though they were in Old Granada. The music and refreshments will reflect the spirit of the occasion, and seguidillas, tangos, and enchiladas should be much in evidence.

This semester's Federation Officers have been chosen. They are Nelson Bonar, president; Eleanor Plas, vice-president; Bill Lacy, secretary, and Sherman Grant, treasurer. Representatives of the various musical groups to the Federation Board are Socrates Pantages, College Chorus; Barbara Dias, Treble Clef; Marie Vallarino, Piano Ensemble; Dick Gordon, String Quartet; Edwin McGuire, Band; Earl Saxton, Orchestra, and Al Beseman, Madrigals. Douglas Kidd, the new representative of the A Capella Choir, succeeds Sherman Grant as the president of that organization.

Mr. Ernst was very favorably impressed with the turnout of the first March Band practice. Forty-five men showed up for rehearsal, and the quality of music was very high. The marchers are working on some new routines that should show up nicely on the field.

The biggest news of all is the allocation of $500 by the Executive Board for band uniforms. Contrary to popular speculation, the proposal was received in a spirit of cooperation and was passed with little trouble. This money will provide uniforms for sixty bandsters. The sample uniform should be in the hands of the Federation by Thursday, and the band should be completely equipped for the San Mateo game a week from Friday.

With a start like this, the spirit of the entire student body should take on a new verve. In the past there has been a notable absence of any concerted effort to show how State feels about the game that it plays.

Not much has been said so far about the musical programs that will be presented for the student body. There is a good deal of vagueness concerning what is to be done, but it is expected that once the Federation party is out of the way, the atmosphere will clear, and all sorts of proposals will evolve.

Dr. G.H. Hinkle Frosh Reception Definite Success
New English Prof.

Despite the sweltering heat of the day, the semi-annual Frosh Reception held from 4 to 5:30 p.m. yesterday in the Women's Gymnasium had one of the largest turnouts in the history of State, according to Adele Hopper, chairman.

"The reception was held as a welcome to freshmen and other new students. We deem it successful if they gained an understanding that the faculty has a friendly interest in students and their problems," Adele said.

Among those in the receiving line were members of the administration and student body officers. Members of the various departments were arranged in groups, and students traveled from group to group in meeting the faculty. Student hosts and hostesses served refreshments and acted as general guides to the new students.

The affair was sponsored by the A. W. S. with the aid of various committees. The chairmen of these committees were Esther Rieck, refreshments; Ruth Graves, decorations; Gladys Hurning, publicity; Jack Fischer, arrangements; Polly Ann McCarthy, invitations; Bob Anderson, hosts, and Ruby Parmley, hostesses. Sigma Pi Sigma also took part in the preparations.

Dr. Alexander C. Roberts, president of the college, said, "I like the attitude of the young folks. They seem to be quite friendly and more responsive. I was very glad to have this opportunity of meeting them."

Introducing . . .

HAL MELLER

Back again playing plenty of end for State this season is 165 lb. six feet tall, Hal Meller. Although he is not the spectacular type of wingman, he shapes up as a valuable man both on offense and defense, and also possesses a sticky pair of hands for passes. Like a great many other State gridders he started his football playing at Lowell. He did one season of playing under the banner of the San Jose frosh, and is now on his second year for the Gaters.

CHAD READE

Outstanding triple threat of this year's, and last year's Gater Squad, is 5 ft. 10 in., 175 lb. Chad Reade. His passing, kicking and running ability make him an ideal man for the left half job under Coach Boyle's system of play. Chad started his ball totting at Lowell High, where in 1935 he won unanimous all-city honors. He also did some fancy ball playing with the Stanford frosh becoming a member of the State team.

Intramural Actions

Indications that this year's intramural football contest will be highly competitive is foreseen by the entry of many strong teams. First entry received was that of Sigma Pi Sigma.

This team, managed by Bob Buckley came very close to winning last year. They rolled up a total of 135 points against their opponents' 2, but oddly enough those two points were enough to beat them as the Jitterbugs won the game, 2-0, and then went on to win the championship.

Another powerful organization is listed as P. E. 166 under the management of Homer Irwin, erstwhile football star. Irwin won his block last term so will confine his duties to managing. Al "Rabbit" Barros is captain of this team which boasts of such stars as Frank Lumpe, Ed Hagerty, George "Pinky" Weekes, Dick Webster, Ken Hansen, and Jack Oakes. Lim, Lee Alderman, Marsh Hansen and Jack Oakes were All-Intramural last year.

A new-comer to the ranks of intramural competition is the Old Mens' Athletic Association, led by President Bob Russell. It includes such stalwarts as Tom Collingwood, Dan Rubin, and Herb Platt.

Platt was captain of the Jitterbugs which won the title last term.

Craig Gaffney, chosen All-Intramural last term, comes up with a large squad from the P. E. 184 class. They will be known as Farmer's Aggies.

Many entries have been received from the Freshman P. E. classes and any one of them may upset the apple-cart.

Other organizations expected to enter are the Playground Directors, winners of the Basketball title, Golden Gaters, winners of the football trophy 3 years ago, and the Newman Club.

Each member of the winning team will receive a purple ribbon and each runner-up team will be awarded a gold ribbon. Besides these awards, the winning team will have its name engraved on the trophy cup reserved solely for intramural football.

A wide open game is expected this year since the new rules state that every member of the team is eligible for passes and passes may be thrown anywhere behind the line of scrimmage. Copies of the new rules are available in the office of Dan Farmer or from the intramural manager.

For Girls Only . . . by Betty

Males have been monopolizing football, baseball, basketball and nearly every other kind of sport. But now comes the revolt of the weaker sex. Girl's sports on the campus are booming.

They started last Monday with the first of the weekly hockey games. Games with California and Stanford in late October are being formulated. If there are some girls interested in this sport and not yet signed up, see Miss McLaren, so the team can be organized.

The archers meet Miss Row on Roberts Field Tuesday at noon. Netsters are planning on having their first meeting Saturday. However, all who wish to play must sign up this afternoon. W. A. A. supplies the tennis balls with a fee of ten cents.

If anyone is interested in self protection or merely just in a clever activity she should try her hand at fencing. The first meeting has been temporarily postponed, and those girls who are waiting are invited to play badminton and ping-pong at the proposed meeting time . . . Thursday at eleven.

Volleyball has enjoyed the most popular turnout of them all . . . there are enough to start an interclass tourney and put the interclass trophy back into circulation.

This is what the girls are doing in the field of sports under the supervision of the W. A. A. And again, if you gals who have a little free time are interested in any of these activities, come on over and get in the sportswing.

State - Chico Scrap Over Grid Trophy

Perpetual Game Trophy Presented By Alumni Honors Coach Farmer

In days of Greece, athletes stretched their muscles to be honored with the laurel wreath, Roman gladiators fought for the turn of a thumb, and the French battled for a kiss on each cheek.

Now at State, our hoghide warriors will have a new emblem of supremacy to fire the team to great heights. This State-Chico perpetual trophy, presented by the State alumni, will honor coach Dan Farmer, as he was a football star at Chico from 1927-30, and co-coach of the State eleven from 1932-38.

The trophy stands two feet high, with a figure of victory in yellow gold on a pedestal flanked on the left by a figure of a passer, and on the right by a punter. The three figures stand in contrast to a mahogany-toned bakelite base.

At the top of a large gold plate on the pedestal are the letters of the competing schools, a red C on a white background and a gold S on purple. The plate will be inscribed each year with the name of the winning school.

The victory trophy will take its place with the Stanford-California Axe, and St. Mary's-Loyola Bell, and the Minnesota-Northwestern little brown jug.

The two teams meet October 14 on the local gridiron. Chico laid us in the dust last year, 14 to 6.

EN GARDE!

Fencing Coach Adopts French Sword Style

Six-Man Squad Equipped With Fencing Uniforms

Dan Farmer announced the schedule for the collegiate D-Artagnans.

Len Duckworth, student-coach, plans to use the French foil technique with the Italian footwork. Victor Vari and John Tilden are the two men he is counting on for most of the wins.

Norman Spicer and Roy Dison are also counted on for victories. Bob Lee, Steve Mills, and Erwin Bischoff are fencers from last semester, and should find places.

Vic Vari, who has been using the Italian technique, is expected to be valuable because of his knowledge of both systems. Tilden has an aggressive style that features a flashy "one-two" with a quick reposit.

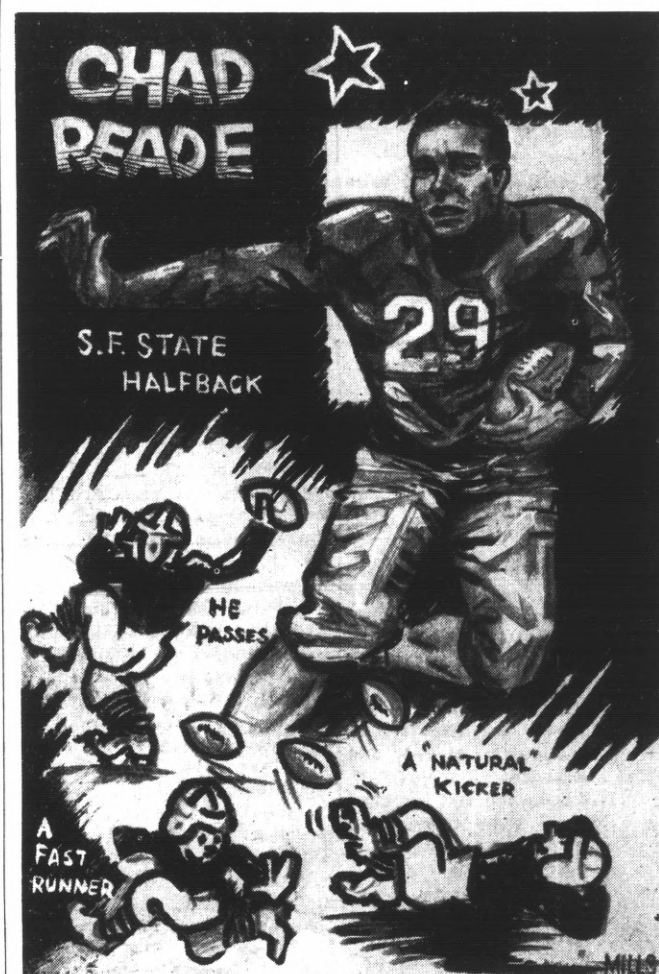

The six-man team is equipped with white fencing uniforms, with purple and gold epaulets. French foils will be used with American masks.

Members of the team plan organization of a club, and will equip themselves with club sweatshirts bearing a fencing insignia. Team headquarters are in the Corrective Room of the Gym.

Play Preliminary To Varsity Contest

State's varsity footballers are not the only ones who are claiming a "bestever" team this season.

With more than thirty men out for the Junior Varsity, twice as many as ever before, Coach Tom Bragg will for the first time have enough men in order to have regular practice sessions.

The J.V.'s will make their initial bow on a week from tomorrow night, as a preliminary game to the State-San Mateo J. C. battle.

Coach Bragg does not intend to use the Notre Dame system, but will continue to use his own "system". It is a Warner type of play with double wing backs, plus a few Bragg specials that never fail to wow the fans, and confuse the enemy.

The junior varsity are going to be colorful even to their uniforms. Their new game suits are a rich purple trimmed in white across the shoulder.

Former Footballer Elected By Alumni

Ted Goldman, former State athlete, was elected president of the college alumni association last Saturday at the annual meeting. Goldman played on State's first football team as an end, and as guard on the '31 basketball squad.

NEVADA'S OPENER

Nevada will be playing the first game on their schedule when they go against the Tide, but they have had two tough scrimmages, against Montana State and St. Mary's of Texas, to put them on edge. Remember what that St. Mary's squad did to U. S. F.'s offense? Well, the Nevadans ran the Rattlers into the ground with their short passing attack.

The Wolfpack's dangerous passing combine consist of half back John Polish to end Elwyn Trigerio. To make matters worse, Polish is also an expert in the running and kicking departments, so anything is liable to happen when he gets his hands on the pigskin. It will be an interesting battle for triple threat honors between him and Stater Chad Reade.

VINSON DANGEROUS

Full back "Skip" Vinson is another man who is expected to cause the Tide a lot of trouble. A hundred and eighty pounds of dynamite coming through the line at full speed is not exactly an easy thing to stop. That's just what this Vinson lad is. Also in the Reno outfit's starting backfield will be a couple of fancy blockers in the persons of Frank Belasco and Mitch Cobeago, who also can do a bit of ball carrying if the occasion demands.

Up in Nevada's first line of defense are a quartet of seasoned linemen who are expected to keep the Golden Tide in check. John Sala, 196 lbs., at end; Joe Kievet, 216 lbs., at tackle; Joe McDonald, 185 lbs., at guard; and 181 lbs. Bob Robinet at center, are going to prove to be big problems to State's offense.

BRIGHTER SIDE

Turning to the brighter side of the picture is the fact that Nevada, in their scrimmage sessions, showed rather weak in the pass defense department. If Reade, Chin, Machi, or any others of the State aerial bombers can start tossing strikes, State stands a good chance of crossing the goal in this manner. The Wolf-pack also have been having end run trouble. They are murder from tackle to tackle, but flank plays have proven to be gainers against them.

PICK STATE

At present, it looks like State will field the same starting team that opened against Marin, but look for a number of reserves to also see action. Guard Swannark and tackle Fairbanks are the only two linemen who right now look sure of keeping those hustling second stringers from making the first team.

Now to get around to deciding who is going to win this tussle! According to cold dope, Nevada has a decided edge in both numbers and experience. But this department likes the way the lads have been hitting that tackling dummy, charging into the sled, and most of all, the swell team spirit that has been present all week.

So out we go to the edge of a skinny little limb and predict Nevada will score once, but so what! State is gonna get across the goal line twice!

OVER DALE!

Cox Changes Title Again

Once again Dave Cox will change his title from Dean to Coach, this time as head mentor for a cross country team.

"This season will see the formation of a cross country team," Coach Cox announced, "containing many veterans from the track team."

Among the teams they intend to race are: San Mateo, San Jose State, the strong Olympic Club squad, the Y. M. C. A., and San Francisco J. C.

Signed up for the team are Fred Kline, ace miler, Marcus Davie, Jack Carolan, Dick Schwab, Craig Gaffney, Obrey Wendling, Rolfe Levitt, Alex Winchester and Leo Coulson.

SHAKE A LEG!

Intramural Deadline

Tomorrow at 2:00 p.m. is the deadline for intramural entries. Hand in your entry before that hour to any member of the P. E. faculty. Seven to eleven men may play on a team with free substitution.

Coach Gerald Kenney Heads Soccer Team

Gerald Kenney takes over the duties of Soccer Coach, announced Dave Cox, P. E. head.

Kenney, one time Stater, who played soccer at U. S. F., will have no veterans.

Open House At Newman Club Draws Throng

With more than 175 Staters, a vast majority of them new students, enjoying the hospitality of the Newman Club, Tuesday's Open House was declared the most successful in the organization's history by President Wade Brummel.

Scene of the Open House, the clubrooms at the Siena House, 350 Buchanan Street, will become the rendezvous for a full program of social activities during the fall semester.

Club meetings will be held first and third Wednesdays of each month at 8 p.m. A new feature, a weekly lunch, will be held each Monday between 11 and 2 so as not to interfere with campus rallies, noon dances and other activities.

Coffee and chocolate will be served free of charge and members can bring or buy their own lunches. Ping-pong, card games, dancing and discussions will be mixed in with the informal Monday noonday program.

At Wednesday evening's meeting the first of the semester, Arnold Vezzani was appointed to head the Newman debate team which will represent the local club against California and San Jose State Newman Clubs. Tommy Beggs was placed in charge of the Newman Intramural football team.

Plans were completed for a communion breakfast on Sunday, October 8, the annual fall picnic and a formal dance for Armistice Day, Saturday, November 11.

Debaters Plan Large Season

Teams of many major colleges, including California, Stanford, St. Mary's, University of Southern California, University of California at Los Angeles, and College of the Pacific are on the schedule of the State debating squad, according to debate manager, Henry Bartels.

In spite of the loss of several varsity debaters, the Forensic Council's teams plan to enter the national tournament at Linfield College in Oregon. All freshmen interested in public speaking are invited to call at the Debate Office, Annex A-6a, as new members are needed to fill vacancies in the organization.

Included in the plans of the Forensic Council are varsity, junior varsity and freshman debating, besides a varied program of social events.

FROSH BRAWL

"freshies" should come well prepared for numerous surprises.

From a reliable source of information it has been learned that nearly two dozen boxes of ripe tomatoes were in the hands of Mr. Kelly and his fellow cohorts. Just in case of rain the brawl will not be postponed.

Christy Nancy Miner, Elwood Stevenson, Alice Madden and Charlotte Folsom Romander.

Wedding Bells: Rita McLaughlin Polanchek and Charlotte Folsom Romander.

Congratulations on new babies too: Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Amsden, Dean and Mrs. Butler, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Rowe and Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Mundt.

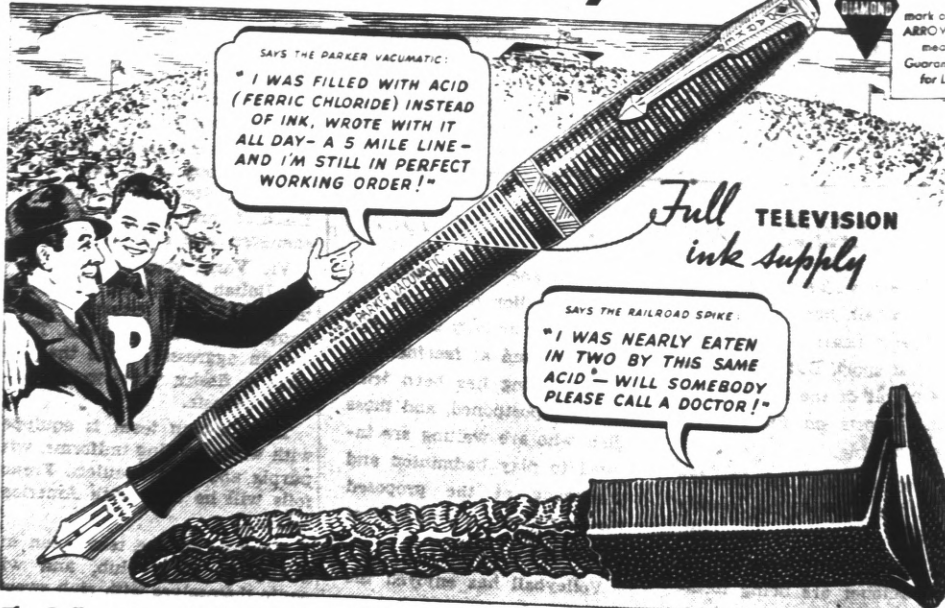

3. Thanks to the Parent Faculty Association.
